"When we experienced our first positive Covid-19 test on campus last year, we quickly realized we needed a smarter solution in place.

After sending home a whole team of people out of an abundance of caution, I got in touch with FastSensor to see if they could help us with contact tracing.

We distributed FastSensor's wearable wristbands to our entire faculty and staff, hoping we wouldn't need to contact trace again, but confident in our ability to handle it if we did.

Sure enough, another positive Covid-19 case was experienced on campus - but we were prepared. We quickly used FastSensor's online dashboard to contact trace the positive individual and isolate any others who had come into contact with them - preventing any outbreak.

Equally, if not even more valuable, we were able to determine where the positive individuals had not been on our campus. This helped us in avoiding unnecessary and costly absences, closures, or possible shutdowns.

Not only was there peace of mind, FastSensor's system proved invaluable after implementation - it worked exactly as advertised when we needed it - keeping our students, faculty, staff, and school safe."
